[AS2] Complete 4.0

A Full Compliance Solution for the AS2 Specification

What is AS2?

Applicability Statement 2 (AS2) is a specification standard by which vendors and trading partners communicate EDI or other business-to-business data such as XML over the Internet. AS2 helps provide security for the transport of communications through digital signatures and data encryption, and helps ensure reliable, non-repudiable delivery through the use of receipts.

AS2 is one of the most popular methods for secure inbound and outbound data transmission and is used by many large retail and eCommerce businesses such as Walmart. With the adoption of AS2 standards, vendors who do business with these trading partners are often required to use AS2 protocol.

AS2 compliance can be challenging without an AS2 EDI solution to help ensure that the data is flowing correctly, securely, and timely and is presented in an understandable format for the user. Businesses often incur significant chargebacks if they do not comply with the AS2 requirements of their partners.

Effortless AS Communications

Establish a secure connection quickly and simply and begin sending and receiving data with your partners via AS2 immediately. AS2 Complete 4.0 is an advanced software solution that complies with AS2 standards—making it easy for you to communicate secure EDI and other data, create and manage certificates, and handle data encryption and decryption. Whether you have one trading partner or hundreds, AS2 Complete is the easy and reliable way to send and receive EDI data with your most important business partners.

Full logging helps ensure every detail of your communications is recorded for future review. Every step—from the moment a data transfer begins, to the receipt—is logged—helping ensure a complete review of transmission history is fast and easy. The AS2 Complete interface allows for full search capabilities, sorting, and alerts to help you quickly find information. Dashboard, email, or SMS alerts can be configured for notification of important events or service status changes in AS2 Complete.

With built-in certificate management, the complexity associated with AS2 encryption and signing are managed for you. AS2 Complete manages the entire process—including generating new certificates.
